DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3 and 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tennes et al- US Patent # 4,745,564. As to claims 1 and 6, Tennes et al disclose an impact detection apparatus including a device with an enclosure (fruit shaped housing 10) for measurement while the fruit is being handled or transported, a plurality of sensors (accelerometers 34x, 34y, and 34z along with temperature, humidity, pressure, etc (as listed in col. 9, lines 37-48 can be used), a processor (microprocessor 14) and transceiver 54 for reporting to remote receiver (RAM/ROM 56), see figs. 1-4 and col. 3, lines 45 et seq. As to claim 3, note the description of the housing 10 as given in col. 3, lines 59 et seq. As to claim 7, note claim 9 in Tennes et al. As to claim 8, note col. 4, lines 33-42.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tennes et al. As to claim 4, as best understood, note the fig. 1 depiction which illustrates the two enclosure portions. However, there is no indication of providing threaded retaining means. Further it is indicated that the battery is replaceable, see col. 4, lines 1-24. Although, the means for securing is not given as a threaded retaining, such an expediency is known in electronics packaging such that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have included threading to allow for the replacement of the battery as is indicated by Tennes et al. As to claim 5, usage of printed circuit boards for the electronics package would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have included since the electronics depicted in figs. 4A and 4B include the electronics as they would be mounted on a circuit board.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 4, it is unclear where it is designated that there is a "threaded retaining means providing sealed engagement between the two enclosure portions, enabling assembly and disassembly of the device". In paragraph 36, there is only indicated that a threaded ring may be employed to secure the electronics package.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 3-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
